Central Hospital Board Has First Public Meeting

Held at Blairmore on Tuesday; Jacob Williams Board Chairman With Fred Antrobus Vice-Chairman; E. E. Maxwell, of Edmonton, Addressed Meeting.

On Tuesday evening at 8.30 the provisional board of the Crows' Nest Pass Central hospital held its first public meeting, aided by Mr. E. E. Maxwell, of Edmonton, supervisor of municipal hospitals. The meeting was held in the Miners' hall, Blairmore, with about thirty interested ratepayers present.

Prior to the public meeting, a meeting of the provisional board, comprising Mayor Fred Antrobus, of Coleman; Mayor E. Williams, of Blairmore; Mayor Ed. Donkin, of Frank; George Coupland, of Bellevue, and A. W. Hollingshead, of Hillcrest, was held with Mr. Maxwell. At this meeting Mayor Williams was appointed board chairman and Mayor Antrobus vice-chairman.

At the public meeting Chairman Williams listed the personnel of the provisional board.

Mr. Maxwell stated that the municipal hospital act was passed by the Alberta legislature in 1917. Twenty-five per cent of the ratepayers could petition the minister of health to set up a municipal hospital district, or councils in the district could ask that a hospital district be set up. The councils of the Pass had asked that the municipal hospital district be established. The provisional board had been elected by the respective councils and would hold office till February, 1945, at which time the ratepayers in the district would have the opportunity of electing to office representatives of their own choosing. In the case of the Hillcrest and Bellevue representatives they would be elected to office in the summer of 1945, this to conform to provincial regulations, as both places are governed by the Department of Municipal Affairs.

It would be the duty of the provisional board to prepare the plan for the new hospital and have it explained and advertised in papers published in the Pass. Mr. Maxwell stated that a 60-bed hospital would be adequate for the Pass, and would cost in the neighborhood of $160,000.

At the polls 65% of the ratepayers must favor the scheme before it can be established.

Non-property owners will be given the opportunity of signing a contract for hospitalization. The minimum tax which should be levied on property as suggested by Mr. Maxwell was $6. Patients must pay $1 per day while hospitalized. This will be to discourage all and sundry from rushing to hospital when there is no need for them doing so.

Mr. Maxwell suggested that in addition to a good basement, the building be two storeys high.

In order to secure money for the building, debentures will be issued. Mr. Maxwell suggested that $100 be the minimum with them carrying 4% interest per annum. He figured that the additional taxation of 4.74 would have to be made to finance the hospital yearly and as the encumbrances were paid off through the years the mill rate would naturally decrease.

CHRISTMAS PARCELS FOR OVERSEAS MUST BE MAILED BY OCT. 25

Postmaster General Mulock announced at Ottawa the early part of the week that Christmas gift parcels to members of the armed forces in the United Kingdom and France must be mailed this year before Oct. 25, and parcels for troops in more remote theatres of war must be mailed between Sept. 15 and Oct. 10. Parcels for the Far East, India, Burma, Ceylon, etc., must be mailed by Sept. 15. Gifts for the Middle East area, Egypt, Iraq, Syria, etc., must be posted by Oct. 5. Deadline for parcel mailings to the Central Mediterranean forces has been set at Oct. 10.

MISS MEGAN JONES RESIGNS FROM SCHOOL STAFF

The local school board has received the resignation of Miss Megan Jones, home economics teacher at Coleman and Blairmore schools. It is understood she has received a position on the Claresholm school staff.

Miss Jones has been a member of the local staff for many years. She first was a public school teacher and for a year taught in the old bank building, now demolished. She later left for Montreal and after a short time in the French metropolis she came west and studied at Alberta University for a year. Following her university studies she was awarded the position of home economics teacher for Coleman and Blairmore schools, a position which she has held during the past three years.

Coleman to Lose Mr. and Mrs. Sam Moores

Sam came to Pass in 1907, Settling at Michel; Came to Coleman in 1911; Had Been Councillor and Trustee.

Coleman is about to lose two of its most respected and old time citizens in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Moores within the next few days. They are leaving their home of the past thirty-three years to take up residence at Victoria.

Sam came to the Pass in 1907 and first settled at Michel, where he gained employment and indulged in his favorite sport of football. He went back to England a year later and brought Mrs. Moores back to Canada. It was while they were in Michel that Mae was born.

Mrs. Moores and baby returned home for a trip and while in England Sam drew stakes from Michel and came to Coleman, where he took up residence and gained employment at the Grand Union hotel. After several years in the hotel he purchased the old Grand Union billiard and pool room, this building now having been demolished, and operated that business for several years.

Following this venture in the latter business he gained employment with McGillivray Creek in the machine shop. He later left that employment and entered the employ of International, this time as a hoistman.

Following this he became interested in a service station and built his own at the west end of main street and named it Sam's Service Station. He operated the station for ten years, when he sold out and went back to the International as hoistman, a position which he continues to hold.

Sam has also been active in civic affairs and has had several terms on the council as well as being a school trustee at one time. In the world of sport he was quite a star on the football field and teamed up with Jack Bell at defence during Coleman's heyday in the provincial soccer world. Throughout his years in the Pass he has been associated with curling and has at one time and another been president of the Coleman club as well as president of the Crows' Nest Pass Curling Association.

His second daughter, Gladys, now a local school teacher, and son Doug, were both born in Coleman, the latter having been overseas several years with the RCAF.

Mr. and Mrs. Moores' many friends regret that they are about to leave Coleman, but nevertheless join in wishing them health and happiness in their new home on the Pacific coast.

CORRECTION

Last week The Friendly Store spotlighted what was thought to be John Nimcan Jr. It is now found that the man was Pte. Bill Wynt, of Bellevue. The mistake was made when the engravings were taken from the same print as that featuring AC Bill Nimcan. The Journal was under the impression that the two men were Bill and John Nimcan and the mistake was not found until after the paper had been published. A picture has now been secured of John and he will be spotlighted in the near future.

JOE ZAK'S CIGARETTES STILL TRAVELLING AROUND EUROPE

The local cigarette fund committee is in receipt of a printed form from the assistant director of auxiliary services Canadian military headquarters overseas, advising that cigarettes addressed to Joe Zak (now in Blairmore) had been received at headquarters, and since Pte. Zak had returned to Canada the cigarettes would be distributed to Canadian troops.

The above goes to show that no matter where a Coleman soldier may be located in the European war theatre, the cigarettes follow him from place to place. Joe's cigarettes must have gone to Sicily, then North Africa and back to England. Possibly other parcels sent Joe are today making the same rounds, only to finish up at military headquarters and then be distributed to Canadian troops.

Brisk Ticket Sale On Shetland Pony

Many Youngsters in Ticket Selling Race For Major Cash Prizes; Pony on Display Daily.

During the past week there has been a mad scramble among the youth of the Pass to sell tickets on the Shetland pony, as well as the $100 bond, which are being raffled by Coleman Curling Club at its carnival on Sept. 23 and 25.

A goodly number of tickets were originally printed last week, but they fast disappeared when twenty youngsters in Coleman and Bellevue voiced their willingness to sell tickets and enter the race for the $15, $10 and $5 prizes to be awarded the three highest ticket sellers. As a result another batch of tickets had to be printed.

The ticket sellers officially listed with Secretary A. Balloch include A. Fraser, Butch Fry, Doreen Jenkins, Richard Gueard, Annie Taron, Alan Mason, V. Hulbert, W. Mitchell, G. Petrunick, L. McEwen, C. Celi, L. DeFarnais, Bob Hoggan, J. McDonald, M. Ferrara and P. Filewich, and at Bellevue, Donna Fisher, R. Spooner and Irene Sterban.

It stands to reason that with such an army of ticket sellers, the ticket sale is quite brisk and present conditions point toward a fairly substantial sum being turned over to the club building fund.

Should any Blairmore youngsters desire to enter the ticket selling race they are at liberty to do so. L. S. Richards will be in charge of the pony when it is on display at Blairmore in front of the Cosmopolitan hotel on Saturday from 1 to 5 p.m. Tickets will be sold by a group of youngsters under Mr. Richards' supervision.

Yanks To Fight at Macleod

The U.S. Army Airforce will be represented at the colorful outdoor boxing card being staged Sept. 4 at No. 6 SPTS, Macleod. According to word just received from Edmonton by Promoter Bus Murdoch, the Yanks will send down a stable headed by Pte. Billy Peterson, former amateur middleweight champion. Peterson dropped a close decision to Cpl. Ron Whalley, 1944 Canadian army lightweight champion, several months ago in one of the finest battles seen in Calgary this year. Several other high class scrappers will accompany Peterson.

In addition to the fight card, a track and field meet will be contested by teams from No. 15 SPTS, Claresholm; No. 8 B & G, Lethbridge; No. 2 FTS, Peace; No. 19 SPTS, Vulcan, and No. 7 SPTS. This will be the final track meet of the season and will decide the winning station in the Southern Alberta Air Force Service League. The bill includes baseball and softball games, and a mammoth dance will close the big day, which starts at 10 a.m.

Pte. Dick Borden Killed in Action In France

Fell on August 11 After Being Overseas Only Three Months; Came Here With Parents in 1926.

The sympathy of Coleman and their many Pass friends is extended this week to Major and Mrs. P. Borden, of Vernon and formerly of Coleman, in the loss of their young son, Pte. Russell (Dick) H. Borden, who was killed in action in France on Aug. 11.

Dick was born at Daysland, Alberta, and is thought to have been 22 years of age. He came to Coleman with his parents in 1926 and attended the public and high schools here, being in grade 9 when he left with his parents for Penitence, BC, in 1938. He later resided at Victoria following the outbreak of war, where Dr. Borden enlisted in the army medical corps. While in the BC capital he attended university school.

While in Coleman, Dick was a Boy Scout and took keen interest in photography. He also attended classes at George Derbyshire's work shop, where he was interested in wood work.

He went overseas in May of this year. A brother, Lieut. F. L. G. (Bob) Borden, is in Italy, and a sister, Sgt. Prue Borden, CWAC, is in Britain.

Pte. J. J. Bolt Seeks Lost Medal

Writes From Italy; Medal Won By Him in Last War Was Lost in Coleman.

The Journal received a letter from a former Colemanite, Pte. J. J. Bolt, now based in Italy. Pte. Bolt will be remembered as international blacksmith prior to the war.

He asks The Journal to try and locate a medal which he won in the last war and inadvertently lost in Coleman. The medal is the 1914-15 star and engraved on the back are the words, "J. J. Bolt, Welsh Regiment No. 1411." Should some local citizen have found the medal and still have it in their possession, Pte. Bolt asks that they give it to Mr. Bert Garrett, who in turn will turn it over to its rightful owner after the war.

Pte. Bolt enlisted in 1939 and has been with the first Canadian division in Sicily and Italy. He sends his best regards to his Coleman friends.

Joe Citizen Says

When handing out a bit of praise for those who've tried in humble ways

the burden of the fight to share, it seems to me to be but fair that all the world should be told how farm-women took a hold on and, with their sons and daughters gone, just set themselves to carry on. And farm boys and girls have done a job of work excelled by none. They've worked better and after school to keep the world's pantry full. Well, some do more and some do less—

We're not all built the same I guess.

But surely we can ALL contrive to buy more bonds in this new drive.

Whatever else we've done—or do!

SAUL REJECTED

Golden text: Because thou hast rejected the word of the Lord, he hath also rejected thee from being king. 1 Samuel 15:23.

1 Lesson: 1 Samuel, Chapters 13, 15, 31.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 15.

Explanations and Comments

The Israelites' Fear of the Philistines' Great Army, 1 Samuel 13:7-7. Saul Arranges to Himself the Function of Priest, 1 Samuel 13:8, 9. Samuel had directed Saul to wait for him seven days at Gilgal, where he would come and offer sacrifices and advise him what to do, 1 Samuel 10:8. Saul waited the set time (seemingly until the beginning of the seventh day), and then, when Samuel failed to appear, took matters into his own hands and offered sacrifice which the commentator Adam Clarke, emphatically asserts, "was most perfectly unconstitutional." The self-willed, self-sufficient king saw no need of waiting for the prophet of the Lord. Matthew Henry even thinks he was pleased with the opportunity of letting Samuel know that he needed him not, could do well enough without him!

Saul's Excuses and Samuel's Re-proof, 1 Samuel 13:10-14. Samuel arrived on the scene at the end of Saul's sacrifice, and Saul went forth to meet him, "that he might salute him." The Revised Version has the translation "that he might bless him," and Matthew Henry comments: "He went out to bless him as if he thought himself a complete priest empowered to bless as well as sacrifice." "What hast thou done?" exclaimed Samuel. Then Saul gave four reasons for his action: the people were fast leaving him, the prophet himself was to blame for he had not come as he had promised, the Philistines were gathering at Michmash, and would attack at Gilgal, and God's help had not been sought in this extremity. Thus Saul justified his action and ended, "Therefore I forced myself to offer a burnt offering," a statement that implied he had committed this sacrilege, if sacrifice it were, with the greatest reluctance, but he could not have done otherwise.

An Evil Spirit Troubles Saul, 1 Samuel 16:14-23. To the Hebrew mind everything was from God, whether good or ill, and the melancholy spirit that bordered on madness which possessed Saul was said to have come from God. Saul's servants urged him to have a skillful harpist come and play before him, whose music would drive the evil spirit away. "Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast," we still say. Saul agreed to this, and one of the young men recommended for the office of a son of Jesse the Bethlehemite, who was skilful in playing, a mighty man of valor, a man of war, prudent in speech, a comely person, and God was with him. Saul sent for David, David appeared and so pleased Saul that he asked Jesse to let David "stand before him," that is, become one of his servants. Saul loved him greatly and made him his armor-bearer. And whenever the mad attack came upon Saul, David was able with his playing to drive it away.

Sea Weeds

New Chemical Industry Is Being Developed In Scotland

Gulliver found the scientists of Laputa distilling sunbeams from cucumbers. A no less amazing new industry is being developed in Scotland, to derive chemicals from seaweed. In recent years seaweed has been found to have extensive potentialities in relation to the making of textiles, transparent paper, plastics, foodstuffs, sizing material, surgical, medical and dental materials. A Scottish Seaweed Research Association is being formed to look into the possibilities of this new industry in Scotland, under the eyes of the Ministry of Supply and the Scottish Council on Industry. The Development Commissioners will give ground for pound grants to the Association up to a maximum of £25,000 ($100,000). The Engineering Division will maintain and develop a ship specially equipped for the survey and collection of deep sea weeds.

Level Crossings

Fatalities Likely To Continue Under Existing Conditions

Grade separation of railway rights-of-way is shown to be the only real solution of level crossing accidents, as fatalities are likely to continue until the crossings are eliminated. The cost of removing them and establishing subways or bridges would be considerable, but it should be possible, and is in the public safety, to improve these crossings where the hazard is admittedly high.

Where main lines of railways intersect highways, whether in rural or urban districts, the danger is often great and the utmost in vigilance has to be exercised if accidents are to be avoided. Most level crossings on main lines in cities, however, are protected by gates and watchmen.—Hamilton Spectator.

Natural Rubber

A Good Market For The Natural Product After The War

The country's synthetic-rubber industry is now producing artificial rubber in a volume more than 20 per cent greater than the annual imports of natural rubber in peace times.

From almost a "standing start" after the outbreak of war, the United States has fashioned a synthetic-rubber industry, which is now producing at the rate of $36,000 long tons annually.

After talks with rubber-goods manufacturers and close observation of the operation of synthetic tires and other products they are convinced that there will be a market for natural rubber for a good while after the war.—New York Times.

Permanence Of Peace

Depends On How Much People Are Willing To Sacrifice

When war ends, does peace come? Always the human race has made the fatal assumption that peace naturally follows war, that the alternative to war is peace.

What has followed every war throughout the ages? Not peace, but an armistice which should not be confused with peace. The time may be short or long during which an armistice lasts. But peace has the characteristic of permanence—it abides as do faith and hope and charity. We must not make the mistake of assuming again in this time that the inevitable consequences of war is peace. In the 1920's and 30's we thought that a peace had been made. We did not realize that we had run out on what we had made, and it turned out to be only one more in a seemingly endless series of armistices.

If we are to have peace, we must win it even as war must be won. We could call a million witnesses to this fact. The lives of the saints and all who have died that we might have life more abundantly, present a mountain of testimony that the ways of peace call for as much real courage, noble sacrifice, high adventure, and a willingness to die for a cause, as does war.—A. J. Stoddard in Our Dumb Animals.

Build Ships

Canada May Build Cargo Ships For The Netherlands

Negotiations are being carried on between the Canadian and Netherlands governments for the construction of cargo ships for The Netherlands merchant marine fleet in Canadian shipyards. Munitions Minister Howe is quoted as saying:

Mr. Howe also disclosed that the Brazilian government has contracted with Vickers, Ltd., of Montreal, for the construction of four 4,000-ton ships.

The contract under discussion with The Netherlands government has not been completed and there is no immediate indication of where the ships would be built. It is understood the contract might be for 30 ships to be used in The Netherlands East Indies.

Are On The Way

Sunspots Will Cause Radio Interference For Next Five Years

Officials of the department of transport's meteorological section said in Toronto that Canadian radio listeners, especially those who are short-wave addicts, can prepare themselves for an invasion of fade-outs, squeakings and sundry other forms of reception interference which probably will reach its peak during 1949.

Sunspots, the bane of aircraft crews and naval wireless operators, are on their way. The unique 11-year cycle which meteorologists have watched for nearly 200 years, has just finished its lowest trend. For the next five and a half years the incidence of spots on the sun will steadily increase, with the greatest noticeable effect being on radio reception.

India's Railways

System Is The Fourth Largest In The World

The Indian railroad system is the fourth largest in the world, only Russia, the United States and Canada taking precedence.

The route mileage open to traffic in 1938-39 was 41,134, consisting of 21,255 miles of broad metre track (5'6"), 15,757 miles of metre track (3'3-3/4") and 4,122 miles of narrow gauge track (2'6" and 2").

A further 1,000 miles of track are being constructed, short feeder lines designed to promote the marketing of agricultural products.

Tuberculosis In Wartime

Rapid Method Is Now Used For Examining The Lungs

The most spectacular development in wartime tuberculosis work, Mass Miniature Radiography, is a method of examining the heart and lungs which has been made possible by the modern camera using a high angle lens. It works as follows: The X-ray tube sends rays through the patient's chest and they form an image on the sensitive X-ray screen. The special camera with the large aperture takes a photograph of this chest image on a piece of celluloid film, about one inch square. These squares are on a continuous strip so arranged that hundreds of pictures can be taken in one hour. This continuous strip of film is then developed, and each picture, containing the chest image and serial number of one individual case, is magnified on a screen so that it can be examined by the radiologist. Mass radiography, of course, is much cheaper than taking hundreds of full-sized films, and these miniature pictures give a general indication of whether the chest is normal or not, and whether a large film is desirable for more adequate inspection.

Mass radiography is not a method of final diagnosis, and must not be treated as such. But it enables the population of a school, a factory, or even a whole area to be examined quickly and cheaply. It is largely in use throughout the fighting services. A number of specially designed X-ray units are being manufactured, and in use throughout Britain. Two of the latest sets are to be sent to Russia by the British Ministry of Health (in replacement of two already sent but unfortunately lost at sea).

A GIANT CROCODILE

The body of a giant crocodile, measuring 13 feet 4½ inches, has been captured in the River Volta, near Asuareh in the Gold Coast. It took 15 men to drag the body to dry land and two men to lift the head. In the crocodile's stomach were found 85 pebbles which, local people say, means the creature was 85 years old.

PRECIOUS HOMESTEAD

By GEORGE CHERNISH

The hot South African sun was beginning to dip behind the craggy mountain peaks. Its waning rays, shining in through the cottage windows, glistened brightly about the cutlery on the neat little table. Caught Linda's hair, too, and were reflected from it like a mass of sparkling jewels.

Linda smiled fondly as she gazed about the little room. Everything was in readiness. In a few moments now Greg would arrive. How sweet it was to recall the happy memories stretching from the day they were married to this very day—their first anniversary!

The rattling of the screen door startled her. She whirled, and saw Greg. A Greg with hollow eyes and drooping shoulders—a grim, despondent Greg.

"Why, Greg, darling!" She ran to him, little devils of fear clutching at her heart. "Tell me about it, dearest."

He smiled wanly. "Forget it, Lin. I always take the tough breaks too hard."

Linda led him over to a big easy chair and tucked off his heavy work boots. She saw an inkling of the trouble. She said softly: "Your job, Greg?"

He nodded. "They kicked about my production." His voice was bitter. "Told me I was too slow."

Linda's vivid blue eyes flashed. "The beasts!" she cried. "They ruin a man's health with their filthy job and then fire him when he can't measure up! But come on, darling."

She urged, feigning gaiety. "It's our first anniversary, you know."

As the days slipped by, and Greg's continuous search for work proved fruitless, Linda's assurance dwindled fast. Not a little of her time was given to periods of worry; the rent, a small sum they'd borrowed, the overdue grocery bill. She too, like Greg, grew sullen and morose.

One evening as they sat down to a meager meal, their landlord paid them a visit. Linda's heart sank as she saw the stony look in his eyes. He lost no time in explaining the purpose of his call. "It's been two months since your last payment, you know," he told Greg. "Aren't you working yet?"

Linda said: "I'm sorry, Mr. Horton. He's still trying, ever so hard."

J. G. Horton, owner of half the property in the district, seated himself in the easy chair. "I have an offer to make," he said. "You buy this place from me for an even two thousand and I'll give you a job tomorrow. You can pay me as rent."

Greg was out of his chair in an instant. "You crook!" he yelled. "I've heard of your dirty tricks before! Why, you'd be lucky to get eight hundred for the place!"

"That's enough, you young idiot!" J. G. Horton drew himself up sharply. "I'm giving you one week to vacate."

When he had gone, Linda sat loose with a flood of tears that would have put to shame the offerings of a Chinese professional mourner. "Why couldn't you take his offer, Greg?" she cried. "He said we could pay him as rent."

"Never!" Greg retorted. "I'd rather live in a tent than let him rob me."

"That's the trouble with you men. You're too foolish, too proud. There'll come a day when you'll have to act against your better judgment."

Next morning, a few hours after Greg had started out on his daily rounds, three men appeared at the kitchen door; two were strangers, the other, Fred Horton, was the landlord's son.

"Morning, Mrs. Kennedy!" Young Horton tipped his sun helmet. "We're looking for the old Redner Homestead."

The Redner Homestead had been demolished years before by a severe gale, Linda told them. "In fact," she added, "it was situated on this very property."

Young Horton's eyes lighted. Jupiter! he gasped. "Dad owns this place, doesn't he?"

Linda nodded.

"Come on, then," he told his companions. "We'll sample her."

Linda's eyes followed the men as they trudged out into the back field. For perhaps an hour they worked there digging a hole. One of the strangers then marched around it, turning a cranklike affair.

It dawned on Linda in one sudden, lightning flash. They suspected diamonds on the property!

A few minutes later, the trio returned and asked permission to use her stove. One of the strangers dropped a handful of earth into a small crucible and placed it over the flame, then examined a particle through a microscope. He leaped back with a wild shout of elation.

"Young chap," he said to Horton, "I'm prepared to offer you a flat $50,000 for this property."

"I'm sorry," the youth said. "My father is the owner."

"Yes, yes, of course! Good-day, Mrs. Kennedy, and much obliged to you. Come, Mr. Horton. We must see that fortunate father of yours."

Linda cried bitterly when they had departed. Knowledge of the fortune that might have been theirs but for Greg's stubbornness, kept pounding at her brain.

A weary voice jerked her back to reality. Greg had returned, a folded sheet of paper in his hand.

"I had to do it, Linda," he exclaimed. "I hate going back on my word. But he had everything ready—promised me a job in the morning—so I just signed, honey."

Answers Critics

German Prisoners Aware Of Allied
Policy Regarding Unconditional
Surrender

Mr. Anthony Eden gave some interesting facts when answering critics in the British House of Commons. He was replying to the contention that the Allied policy of unconditional surrender for Germany stiffens the resistance of German soldiers, tending to make them immune to Allied appeals to surrender.

Mr. Eden told the House that 77% of the prisoners captured since the landings in Normandy have admitted, on interrogation, that they had read Allied pamphlets and listened to Allied radio messages. He also said that 40% of the prisoners were carrying Allied leaflets in their pockets when captured. Many of them had read the leaflets and regarded them as something in the nature of a passport for the moment of surrender.

Editor Of The Whitehorse Star Tells Of Development Up North

Whitehorse, Yukon, is expected to have a population of 3,500 when normal times are resumed after the war, Horace E. Moore, publisher of the Whitehorse Star, stated in Winnipeg, where he attended the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association convention.

At present nearly 30,000 people live in Whitehorse, he said, mostly American army personnel. Under the Canal project 3,500 gallons of oil flow daily through the pipe-line to the refinery in Whitehorse. While the number of Canadians employed at this time are few, they are being gradually increased, he said.

Mr. Moore reported that the Dominion government has reserved 800 acres for an experimental farm in the Klauke district, near the White River area.

"We've lived out of cans a long time, but we're hoping a lot of fresh vegetables will be brought in by highway from the Peace River area now," the publisher said.

The Whitehorse Star, a 43-year-old weekly paper, was winner of the Charters cup in 1942, an award for the best weekly in Canada with a circulation up to 500. Mr. Moore has published the paper 12 years—Winnipeg Free Press.

German Government Is Planning To Finance Exiled Nazi Organizations

Large funds are being secretly deposited by the German Government in several neutral countries to finance exiled Nazi organizations after the war.

In some cases these funds are in the form of goods, which are being warehoused abroad for sale through neutrals in anticipation of Germany's inability to unload them direct on Allied nations.

By this method, whatever happens to German or other European countries, the Nazi organizations which will go underground abroad will be self-supporting for years—London Daily Sketch.

Luxury Air Liner Planned To Make
Overnight Trip

Cap't K. J. G. Bartlett of London, England, director of Bristol Airplane Company, said in an interview at Winnipeg that aviation would undoubtedly make strides in the future and that he had no doubts as to the success of air travel over the world.

"We are working on a 130-ton luxury job that will make an overnight trip from London to Montreal and London to New York," he said.

"We can't say how expensive it will be comparable to the cost of a trip of that distance aboard a luxury liner."

With all signs pointing to a bumper crop of tomatoes, now is the time to collect recipes for serving this favorite and vegetable. Fresh tomatoes are most often served sliced or quartered with salt and pepper, or sugar and vinegar, or your favorite salad dressing—but don't pass by suggestions for tomatoes in made dishes. Here is a recipe for a delightful luncheon dish.

Baked Tomatoes With Cheese

4 large tomatoes
1½ teaspoon salt
¾ teaspoon pepper
1 cup corn flakes
1½ teaspoon paprika
2 teaspoons melted butter
½ cup grated cheddar cheese

Wash tomatoes, remove stems and cut in halves crosswise. Place cut side up in baking pan; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 10 minutes.

Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs, mix with paprika and melted butter. Cover each tomato half with the grated cheese, sprinkle with crumbs. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) three minutes or until cheese is melted. Serve on toast, if desired.

Yield: 8 servings.

Some Signs In Britain May Now Be Used Again

Signs on shops and vehicles in Britain giving place names can be used again. Mr. Morrison has lifted a war ban, reports the Trans-Atlantic Daily Mail. When invasion threatened in 1940 display of any sign having the name, situation, direction, or distance of any place was prohibited, if the sign could be read from a highway, train, or low-flying plane. Under the new order the prohibition is limited to signs which can be read from low-flying aircraft. This will allow re-erection of large number of signs on shops and other business premises, although large-scale signs on prominent buildings will still be ruled out. If a sign is in a prominent position so that an uninterrupted view of it can be obtained from a low-flying plane, the lettering has to be not more than six inches high. Exhibition of place names on vehicles is exempted from all restriction.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

PROVISIONAL COMMITTEE GOES TO WORK

A provisional committee is now at work preparing plans which are to be presented to the public of the Crows' Nest Pass in connection with the Central hospital scheme.

A meeting Tuesday evening revealed that figures now under consideration are lower than those at first mooted. For instance it is the opinion of the supervisor of municipal hospitals that a 60-bed hospital is ample for this district at the present time. Eighty to a 100 beds had been spoken as a likelihood. Then again the cost will be in the neighborhood of $160,000 instead of the $200,000 which had been mentioned.

The question period revealed that many points will have to be cleared up. One point we thought important was the assessments in the rural and urban areas. The government sends assessors to assess property in the districts outside the incorporated areas such as Coleman. The towns have their own men come in to assess property. Are these properties equally assessed? Once the committee's plans are placed in front of the Pass public, they should be studied thoroughly. A public meeting will be held in Coleman in the near future and will be presided over by the provincial supervisor of municipal hospitals. By that time Colemanites will have an opportunity to study the plan and questions of doubt can then be asked and cleared up. Sixty-five per cent of the ratepayers must favor the scheme before it can be put into operation, therefore, deep study must be given the proposal.

AFTER-THE-WAR CELEBRATION

Old Timer in his letter last week helped to stir up local organizations to come into the open and state whether or not a giant celebration will be held in Coleman following the announcement of the European war's end, which now seems to be fast reaching that stage. The council will lend its support to any organization willing to take the lead in the celebra-

APPEAL ON THE HOME FRONT

The opening gun of The Salvation Army Home Front Appeal will be fired on Sept. 18, 1944, and for twelve days thereafter a concentrated campaign will be conducted to raise one million dollars.

In 400 towns, cities and villages, 30,000 volunteers will gear themselves to all-out co-operation with 1,500 Salvation Army officers in making the appeal a success. Every Corps in Canada is taking part in this national endeavor, except those centres where The Army is a participating agency in a local community chest or united appeal.

While world battle fronts are recouping to the fierce shrill noises of war, the battle against poverty, ignorance and fear continues apace at home. To wage this campaign against man's insidious enemies which fight and destroy without weapons, and cringe before enlightenment, a vast sum of money is needed.

Not only is the Army of Mercy hoping to carry on its many sided program of helping poor folk—re-establishing ex-prisoners to normal—visiting the sick—and guiding the step of erring women back to the ways of righteousness; it also plans a vast and far-reaching program of rehabilitation for returned men when the war is over.

To quote Commissioner Benjamin, territorial commander: "The Salvation Army believes that every man's soul is worth saving; similarly it believes that spiritual help and practical aid go hand in hand. Wherever there is a need, there is an answering call from one of the blue-garbed soldiers of Salvation."

"The Home Front Appeal is a splendid opportunity for all at home to prove to our fighting men that we are continuing to keep the home fires burning brightly here in Canada."

Sgt. Mudman has given fair warning that motorists guilty of infractions will be prosecuted and has advised them to get lights and brakes into condition and dim when passing approaching cars in the evenings.

Mr. and Mrs. Blazenko are at present residing with the groom's mother, Mrs. Joe Adamac, of East Coleman, and a reception will be held at her home in honor of the newlyweds.

Dear Sirs: Many thanks for the constant flow of Sweet Caps. They are very much appreciated. Since landing in France I have not run into any of the Coleman boys as yet, but there are a few from the Pass and many Westerners. One surely obtains a different outlook on things in general after being over here. We're all in the best of spirits, but eager to see the end and get back home. How are the fish biting, and are there many deer trails in the hills? Am looking forward to seeing you all.—Joseph Sikora.

Dear Sirs: Thanks ever so much for the cigarettes. Some of the boys have had parcels go astray for several months, but mine have continued to arrive regularly.—J. Koutsky.

Dear Sirs: I received your cigarettes today and want to thank you very much for them. They have been coming through quite regularly for some time now. I am fine over here and hope everyone at home is the same.—Doug. Jenkins.

Windsor Station (upper) headquarters of the Canadian Pacific Railway's wide flange travel system.
Day by day, travellers by the score and citizens of Montreal watch the progress of the war on huge wall maps in the Concourse of Windsor Station (upper right).

A few of the 2,500 employees of the C.P.R. whose offices are contained in Windsor Station are shown (lower).

HISTORIC Windsor Station in Montreal, nerve centre of the vast Canadian Pacific Railway system, is much more these wartime days than merely a place to get on or get off trains. Under the impetus of war and in keeping with C.P.R. traditions of service, many new features for the use of the general public have been added.
Not the least can be viewed in the flag-bedecked Concourse, where four huge wall maps have been installed depicting the Pacific Theatre, the Italian Front, the fighting in France and the Russian Front. Each day brightly colored thumbtacks are re-arranged to show the very latest gains as announced by the army headquarters in each theatre of war. Not only the travelling public, but many hundreds of Montrealers take advantage of this service by means of which they can picture a vivid, up-to-the-minute picture of all the world's battlefronts. The Concourse itself is decorated with all the flags of the United Nations, each one named.
Over 2,500 officers and employees of the C.P.R. are stationed in Windsor Station, which first opened its doors in 1893. Each day between six and eight thousand telephone calls are made over the company's switchboard there, as well as many long distance business calls over the company's own wires which stretch from Halifax to Vancouver.
Kings and queens, lords and ladies, diplomats, dowagers, immigrants seeking a new life of freedom, young servicemen starting for the far corners of the earth—all these have passed through Windsor Station's lofty portals not only during this war, but in the days of other wars and the years of peace between. Windsor Station is a worthy monument to the world's greatest travel system and the country it so faithfully serves.

Dear Sirs: Many thanks for the cigarettes. We surely appreciate them. Hope this will soon be over so we'll be able to be home again.—Sergeant B. Murray.

Dear Friends: Thanks most sincerely for the cigarettes that have just arrived. Kindest regards to all in Coleman.—J. T. Dunbar.

Dear Sirs: Once again I wish to express my gratitude for the gifts of cigarettes. I am getting along fine and am expecting to go on leave soon. I may meet up with some Coleman boys then. We all look forward to these cigarettes, which have become almost as precious as gold.—Cpl. E. W. Derbyshire.

NOTICE TO EMPLOYERS AND THEIR MALE EMPLOYEES

By an order signed on August 15th, 1944, by the undersigned Minister of Labour under authority of National Selective Service Mobilization Regulations:

1. Commencing August 22nd, 1944, every employer is required to check the documents held by each newly engaged male employee, within 7 days of the employee's engagement, to determine if such employee possess documents to show that he is in good standing under National Selective Service Mobilization Regulations (that is, in relation to the Military Call-up);
2. Every employer must report on Schedule 9 to the Registrar for his Mobilization Division, concerning any employee found not to possess documents as referred to;
3. Every employer is required similarly to check the documents held by each male employee newly engaged between May 1st, 1944, and August 22nd, 1944, and to report to the Registrar for his Mobilization Division by August 29th, 1944, on any such employee found not to possess documents as referred to;
4. Any male employee here referred to, is required by the Regulations to present his documents to his employer for purposes of inspection;
5. Penalties are provided for any employer or male employee who fails to comply with these Regulations.

By an earlier order, employers were required to check the documents held by their male employees, and to report by May 1st, 1944, on doubtful cases as well as cases where employees did not possess documents. The procedure for the present continuing check, although being notified to employers in "Notice to Employers and their Male Employees", which is now being mailed, is identical with that set forth in "Employers' Guide", which covered the check made before May 1st, 1944.

Employers are asked to remember that they do not report on men who do possess the necessary documents—only on those who fail to present documents for examination, or where there is doubt that the document presented actually proves good standing.

The employers of Canada co-operated very satisfactorily on the first check, made up to May 1st last. This co-operation was decidedly helpful, and is very much appreciated. Further co-operation is now earnestly requested.

Schedule 9 and details as to documents which prove good standing, are available through the Employment and Selective Service Offices.

Theatre Notes

Opening at the Palace on Saturday is the much-awaited film version of that perennial stage favorite, "The Desert Song." Warner Bros., the first of the film companies to bring musicals to the screen, has apparently outdone itself in this production.

Filed in gorgeous technicolor, this completely modernized version leans heavily on current history for its plot. The vivid story, told against a background of beauty and romance, tells of a young itinerant musician, Paul Had-on, who, in the guise of El Khobar, makes daring and spectacular efforts to free the downtrodden Kiff slave labor from the ruthless oppression of the Nazis.

Interwoven into the plot is the beautiful love story of Paul and the lovely Margot, a French cafe singer, who loves him for his courage and unselfishness.

The story reaches its climax when Paul, discovered by the authorities as El Khobar, makes his getaway through the efforts of his friend, Johnny Walsh (Lynne Overman), an American newspaper reporter. Later he opens the eyes of Colonel Fontaine to the treachery of Caid Youssef (Victor Francis), and proves by documentary evidence that the Caid is in the employ of the Nazis. Fontaine makes amends by being instrumental in securing the freedom and rights of the Riffs.

Home Front

With Canada's war effort at its very peak, and the call for men, guns, shells ever more insistent, it is difficult to maintain peace-time efficiency on the home front. In industry—merchandising—transportation, less experienced workers are replacing the trained men who are devoting their skill to sterner tasks.

Reconstruction In India

INDIA IS PERHAPS the most colorful member of the British Empire and her political history has also been colorful and frequently stormy. Although they are still far from settled in many respects, the people of India have united sufficiently to make a remarkably fine contribution towards the Empire's war effort. With the entry of Japan into the struggle, India became increasingly important as an outpost of the Empire from the military standpoint, and it has been the base for many important moves in that theatre of war. However, like all the people of the Allied nations, those of India are looking forward to the time when peace will be restored and life will again proceed under normal conditions.

Agriculture To Be Stimulated

Like many other countries, India has been laying plans for the post-war years. No doubt the most important of these plans centre around the prospect of self-government, which Britain has promised they will enjoy when the war is ended. They have, however, been making provision for developments in many lines, and it is especially interesting to us in Canada, to hear of some of their plans for the future in regard to agriculture. It has recently been announced by a special committee of the Imperial Council of Agricultural Research that a program has been worked out through which it is hoped to increase agricultural production in India by fifty per cent. in the first ten years after the war, and to one hundred per cent. in the following five years. To assist in accomplishing this, provision has been made for a capital expenditure of $3,000,000,000, and an additional annual outlay of $60,000,000 for the entire fifteen years.

Standards Of Living Rise

Various means are being worked out to effect this enormous increase in production. They include bringing more land under cultivation, and increasing the productivity of land now in use. There will also be an extension of India's already great irrigation scheme, and other improvements in the supply and conservation of water. These developments will not only result in greater efficiency in farming operations, but will serve in a more important respect, that of providing enough of the right kind of food for every citizen, and of generally improving the standard of living, which in many cases has been at a very low level. This is one part of Britain's master plan for helping native populations throughout the Empire to improve their economic and social status.

SMILE AWHILE

"You seem very quiet tonight, Roland," said the pretty girl. "Are you sure you love me?"

"Love you?" Roland exclaimed. "Good heavens, Rhoda, when we were saying good-bye at the gate last night, your dog bit a piece out of my leg, and I didn't even notice it till I got home!"

"Did you know I had a little money when you married me?"

"No, I thought you had a lot."

"Is this village lighted by electricity?"

"Only when there's a thunder-storm."

"Jake—I just saw a girl with a glass eye."

"Mike—how did you know? Did she tell you?"

"Jake—No, stupid, it came out in the conversation."

"Does your husband worry over the increasing cost of living and the mounting grocery bills?"

"No; he says there's no sense in both him and the grocer worrying over the same bills."

"Now, then, young man," demanded her father irritably, when he called for the tenth time, "what do you want with my daughter?"

"With her, sir? Well, you know best what you can afford."

Blake: "Don't you think it a good idea to rate all cars according to their horsepower?"

Drake: "Not as good as rating all drivers according to their horse sense."

The discouraged owner of a small coffee shop in Ohio gave up the ghost and placed a sign on the door: "No coffee, no sugar, no help, no oil, no heat, no profit. If you want a square meal, join the army."

Stranger: "Did you see a pedestrian pass here?"

Local: "No, I've been here all afternoon and not a thing has passed me except one man, and he was on foot."

"I'm sorry, old man, but I make it a rule never to lend money. It ruins friendship."

"But why let that bother you? We never were what you might call wonderfully good friends, were we?"

Auntie: "How did Jimmy get on in his history exam?"

Mother: "Not very well, but it wasn't his fault. They asked him things that happened before the poor boy was born."

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—Is it necessary to register with the Wartime Prices and Trade Board to sell a small quantity of honey?
A.—If you produce less than 4,000 pounds of honey you must register with your local ration board; if you produce over 4,000 pounds you must register with the nearest branch of the Ration Administration.

Q.—I am planning on purchasing a fur coat this fall and would like to know if the prices are controlled by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board?
A.—The prices of fur coats are not controlled by the Board. The purchaser is protected by a Board order which makes it necessary for furriers to attach a tag to each garment showing the correct name of the fur as well as the trade name.

Q.—Am I entitled to canning sugar coupons for my new baby?
A.—Yes, when you make application for your baby's ration book, you will receive "F" coupons to cover the purchase of canning sugar.

Q.—Is comb honey rationed?
A.—Comb honey in standard wooden sections, 4½ inches by 4½ inches or 4 inches by 5 inches, has been removed from the list of rationed commodities. Cut comb honey and extracted honey remain on the ration list on the basis of two pounds per preserves coupon.

Q.—I live alone and do not use very much milk and would like to know how I can purchase condensed milk. I am in a restricted area and do not know how I can obtain the necessary coupons.
A.—If you live in an area where evaporated milk is sold only by coupon, and you require special Evaporated milk coupons it will be necessary for you to have a doctor's certificate. However sweetened condensed milk is not rationed and you may buy it without coupons.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book (the book in which you keep track of your ceiling prices) mentioning the name of this paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

Thunder Bay Area

Seems To Have Had Plenty Of Rain This Year

Jupiter Pluvius seems to have developed an unusual partiality for the Thunder Bay area. As described in a recent news article in this paper the summer of 1944 as far as this district is concerned has been an unparalleled rainfall record.

Many citizens have not used a garden hose since last year. Just when they think they will have to give the lawn and the garden a sprinkling the skies darken and the mutterings of distant thunder are heard. As a rule when the rain comes it is in volume and everything is drenched thoroughly. Fort William Times-Journal.

Opinions alter, manners change, creeds rise and fall, but the moral law is written on the tablets of eternity.

Future Safeguards

Occupation Of Enemy Countries Will Be Found Necessary

One of the most reassuring statements yet to be made by any Allied leader has come from President Roosevelt. It is to the effect that unconditional surrender by Germany and Japan will also involve the occupation of these countries. There may be right now a near approach to the occupation of Germany.

Ever since 1918, there has been a realization among many of the most competent observers that Berlin should have been occupied in that year and also other parts of Germany. Failure to do so unquestionably encouraged the German spirit of revenge and gave them impetus for this present struggle, now nearly five years in duration. It can't happen again 20 years hence.

As for Japan, the American leaders must know whereof they speak. Two years ago Tokyo looked a long way off. But it is not so remote at the present time. The Jap government may well sue for peace after Germany is secured, but the terms of peace will be occupation by Allied forces. And they will be largely American, as a matter of course.

The declaration by President Roosevelt should stop the American appeasers. It is a matter of safeguarding future generations, an antidote against the vicious doctrine which Germans invented after the last war, that German armies were never defeated. A new version of that doctrine may be expected this time, something along the line that with the whole world arrayed against the Reich, Germany could not win. There will be the implication of a next time, when conditions won't be the same. That is the sort of thing which will have to be scotched.

The Russians have the right idea, they have paid enormous premiums and will now demand the insurance policies in terms of Draconian peace that there won't be a next time. And by and large the Russians will be aided and abetted by the British people in remembrance of the robot bombing, the vengeful killing of innocents in England, at task in which the Nazi criminals engage themselves to this moment, when they know the war is lost. Nor will the United States be soft if Roosevelt has a renewed mandate. — St. Catharines Standard.

Developed For Keeping Mortality Low In Shipments Of Animals

A special technique has been developed for shipping animals, wild and domestic, assuring proper food, ventilation and other demands, and the mortality in transit is surprisingly low. In a single week recently, the Railway Express Agency in the United States handled 211 live animals, including 66 birds, 75 dogs, countless baby chicks and grown chickens, ducks, rabbits, pigeons and aquarium fish in tank containers, a turtle, a hog, a crow, a horse and a snake.

Kathleen is a Corporal with the Canadian Women's Army Corps, now non-commissioned officer in charge of a canteen in Montreal. Her three brothers are all doing war work, one with the Imperial Army in Jamaica, one in Washington, and one in Michigan. Fifth member of the MacDonald family is a younger sister, still in school. Kathleen is interested in problems of food production and distribution and hopes the MacDonald quintet will find work with the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration after the war.

Canadian Spans 13-Year-Old Nazi For Spitting In Face

The story of how a member of the Canadian Provost Corps spanked a 13-year-old German prisoner-of-war on a French roadside after the prisoner spat in his face was related in the letter received in Toronto by Mrs. Ross Pierce from her husband who is a lieutenant in a tank reinforcement group in France. Mrs. Pierce revealed contents of the letter. She said her husband related how he recently passed a group of 60 to 70 dejected-looking German prisoners of war guarded by one provost. Off to one side was a lone prisoner. Also accompanied by a mere provost. "He was a mere kid," Lieut. Pierce wrote, "a real 'Hitler youth' in uniform. He was anything but dejected and spat in the provost's face."

The letter then related how the provost kicked the youngster up and spanked him. "Yes, on the bottom." The other Germans roared with laughter, Lieut. Pierce wrote, and he added that he never had seen a better illustration of applied psychology. He said he found out later that the prisoner was only 13 years old.

Remove Rubble

Group Of Canadian Engineers Doing Good Work In Britain

Picked for building determination and "know how", a special group of Royal Canadian Engineers is helping to minimize the effect to the flying bomb. Under the direction of Lieut. Cecil Gill, Vancouver, 23 men from across Canada have gained and held the reputation of being able to move more rubble in less time than any other squad of comparable size in the London area.

Though they are under the direction of Canadian Military Headquarters, the men have been directed to assist the civil authorities in rescuing buzz-bomb victims when their services are not required for military duties. Military demands on their specialized knowledge have been light during the past few weeks, and the squad has performed a number of difficult rescues and accomplished risky demolitions for the civil officials.

The group, consisting of two Heavy Rescue Squads, is largely made up of miners and construction workers, though one of the sergeants in charge of a squad, Tom Boyd of Moncton, N.B., was a railway engineer before he joined the forces. All have a good knowledge of building construction, and have had experience in their work which nerves them to go into buildings that seem ready to collapse into a jumbled heap of wreckage. Sgt. Art Bouvin, Vancouver, B.C. knows the ins and outs of shoring tottering walls, for he was a miner in civil life and knows the stresses and strains that timbers will stand.

Lieut. Gill, in charge of the squad, boasts that he will pit his men, all of whom are over 40, against any other team of the same size in a race with time through broken beams and tumbled bricks. Gill spent most of his life in the construction "business" on the West Coast, building big paper mills, and later working with the British Columbia telephone system.

Cafes and hotels in Colombo, Ceylon, established after September, 1939 have virtually gone vegetarian since June 1, 1944, because of defence regulations prohibiting the sale, supply and service of certain foods. The regulations also place food restrictions on parties, both private and public.

EVERYBODY TIRED

A storage and moving company placed the following classified advertisement in a Chicago newspaper: "Our help are all tired—so unless you need anything real bad, do not come this week."

LIBERATED FRENCH APPEAR TO BE UNITED TO RESTORE THE PRESTIGE OF THE REPUBLIC

IN SOUTHERN FRANCE—If the people of Provence are typical of all of France, it is certain that the French have come through four years of German occupation as a vigorous people with confidence in the future and a determination to make the fourth republic something that will restore French prestige in the world.

Not only have the ubiquitous resistance forces waged a full-scale war against the invaders but they have taken over the local government and have them working smoothly. They are maintaining order throughout the liberated territory in southern France.

On the surface, at least, there is little to support the oft-heard prediction that liberation of France would be followed by civil war.

The French, at the moment, seem united as they never were in peace time, and class bitterness, which marked the days of the people's front, seems much less now. Hardship apparently has made Frenchmen more tolerant of one another.

The expected clash between Gen. de Gaulle's provisional government and the resistance leadership inside France has not materialized as yet. French interior force leaders here invariably say they recognize Gen. de Gaulle as the man who galvanized the French into continuing the war and as head of the French government.

The bulk of the resistance people expect France's government to be "very much to the left" but not communist.

They say, however, that the Communists were the most zealous and most effective of all the elements in the resistance movement.

"The proof is in the number of Communists who were shot—120,000 of them, a flashing-eyed, pistol-toting girl fighter said.

FIRE ON FLAG

Germans Allowed Approach Of Truce Party Almost To Gun Muzzles

WITH A NAVAL TRUCE PARTY OFF CAPE GIENS—German shore batteries opened fire at point blank range on a white truce flag after permitting its approach almost to the gun muzzles, states war correspondent George Tucker.

Commanded by Lt.-Col. William C. Baxter, Baltimore, Md., the truce party was approaching the harbor of Pauquerville to demand the island's unconditional surrender when 88-mm. guns began to whistle projectiles around the torpedo boat carrying the party.

Two large white flags were prominently displayed on the deck and couldn't be mistaken for anything except truce flags. I can vouch for this because I held one of them.

We escaped without casualties and battleships and cruisers shammed high explosive shells into the peninsula.

SHOULD BE NO SUCH THING AS FOOD SURPLUSES WHEN PEOPLE ARE STARVING IN THE WORLD

LETHBRIDGE, Alta.—What happens agriculture after this war depends largely upon what has happened at Hot Springs and Bretton Woods, and what is now happening at Dumbarton Oaks," Professor Robert Rae, agricultural attaché of the British Embassy at Washington and technical adviser to the British high commissioner at Ottawa, said in an interview.

Prof. Rae was visiting the Dominion experimental farm here, seeing Alberta irrigation projects and crops grown under the ditch and meeting with technical agriculturists of the city and district. He is the successor to Prof. A. Scott Watson, who returned to Britain last spring.

Speaking of trade after the war, Prof. Rae said it all depends upon the consciousness and understanding of world peoples. There should be no such thing as food surpluses while people anywhere are starving, he said. "Of course, it is easy to say such things, but what a tremendous job it is to bring them about. That is why I say that Hot Springs, with its United Nations food conference, Bretton Woods with its monetary conference and now Dumbarton Oaks where the great powers are seeking

POLISH ARMY

Receives Congratulations From Lieut.-Gen. Crerar

WITH THE CANADIANS IN FRANCE.—Lt.-Gen. Crerar sent a message of congratulations to Gen. Stanislaus Maczek, commander of the Polish armored division which fought with the Canadians in the battle for Falaise and in the Trun gap.

The message said Polish troops played "an important and gallant part in the recent fighting" and added:

"The 1st Canadian army is proud to count the Polish armored division among its formations. If we all work as determinedly and as well together in the future as we have in the recent past our mutual celebration of final victory cannot be long delayed."

CAUSING DELAY

Reactionaries Holding Up Negotiations For Finnish Armistice With Russia

STOCKHOLM.—Reactionary agrarian and conservative quarters in Finland are attempting to delay an armistice with Russia, according to information received here from Finland. These factions were reported to be saying in essence: "Allied successes in the west are entirely in the Finnish favor. It betters our position because it is restoring a balance of power between the Anglo-Americans and the Russians. If we continue to hang on we are likely to get a better peace."

SENT TO GERMANY

Nazis Transfer 3,000 Prisoners From Concentration Camp In Netherlands

LONDON.—About 3,000 Netherlands, including all the Jews left at the notorious Nazi concentration camp at Vught, occupied Holland, have been transported to Germany for re-interment, a report from the Nazi-occupied country said. The move was interpreted as part of a German policy to empty all Netherlands concentration camps and political prisons and send the internees to Germany.

NO INSURANCE

STOCKHOLM.—The Swedish war insurance board announced it no longer will underwrite Swedish ships travelling to German ports. This has the effect of eliminating all Swedish vessels from trading with Germany.

GARBAGE PROBLEM

WINNIPEG.—Members of the Winnipeg civic health committee decided at a special meeting to ask J. A. Burnett, Toronto garbage disposal expert, to come here and give advice on the local garbage problem.

Delegation To Peace Conference

Sir Alexander Cadogan, chairman of the British delegation to the Four Power conversations on post-war security plans, arrives in the Washington airport. Left to right are: U.S. Undersecretary of State Edward R. Stettin, Sir Alexander Cadogan, and former U.S. ambassador to Japan, Joseph Grell.

WOMAN IN CREW

LONDON.—In a despatch from France, Doon Campbell, Reuters News Agency war correspondent, said that a German woman has been discovered among the dead crew of a German tank knocked out in recent fighting with the British Second Army.

TO HELP ILLITERATE

MEXICO CITY.—President Avila Camacho has, by decree, started a nationwide campaign against illiteracy. Mexicans over 18 years of age and under 60 who can read and write Spanish are obliged to teach reading and writing to those between six and 40 who are unable to do so.

Rommel Sits In Monty's Lap

Of course "Rommel" is just a dog (as who doesn't know that), and he happens to be the pet dog of General Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, who is here shown holding his pooch while Prime Minister Winston Churchill strokes the dog's head. The prime minister was on an inspection tour of the Normandy front.

U.S. Food Expert At Newspapermen's Warvention

Men prominent in the weekly newspaper business and in the grain trade turned out in force at Stevenson Field, Winnipeg, to welcome Dr. Joseph S. Davis, director of Food Research, Stanford University, on his arrival from California. Dr. Davis is one of the most prominent authorities on food on the continent and was the chief speaker at the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association 25th Annual Meeting Silver Jubilee and Warvention dinner held in Winnipeg. Dr. Davis is shown above being greeted by: R. P. MacLean of the Kelowna Courier and Past President of the Association. In the group, from left to right are: A. W. Hanks, Publisher of the St. James Leader and Chairman of the Association's National Convention Committee; Clarence V. Charters, Managing Director of the Association and Publisher of the Brampton Conservator; Mr. MacLean; J. T. Irving, Secretary of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange; Dr. Davis; G. S. Mathieson, Director of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, and Alexander Christie, President of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

WAR MATERIALS SAID NOW TO BE MOVING IN QUANTITIES TO PACIFIC WAR REGIONS

WOMEN HARVESTERS

Two Groups From Ontario May Possibly Come To Alberta

EDMONTON.—Possibility that women from eastern Canada may help in harvesting Alberta's grain crop was revealed by A. P. MacLachlan, acting manager of the national selective service office here.

"We were advised by the regional superintendent at Winnipeg that arrangements are completed for the excursion of civilian workers to the prairies in the near future," he said.

"The workers will include two groups of women. The first group will include women now employed in Ontario whose homes are on prairie farms and the second is of women who have had farm experience in Ontario and have been asked by their western friends to assist in the harvest work."

BEFORE INVASION

One Of Germany's Admirals Committed Suicide In French Village

ST. ETROPE, France.—Admiral Siegfried Wieders, 55, commander of German marine forces in southern France and charged with the defence of naval establishments from Nice to Perpignan, committed suicide in this village at the outskirts of Aix-en-Provence four days before the Allied invasion.

The Admiral's French secretary found the body in his study on Aug. 11, after hearing a shot.

French resistance leaders said they heard the Germans had planned to kill Wieders because it was believed he was implicated in anti-Hitler plotting.

DESTROY MANY TANKS

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS.—Allied forces have destroyed or damaged 1,200 German tanks in western France since D-day, it was announced.

OTTAWA.—Like a tireless boxer coming out for the ninth round—and the Sunday punch—Canada's war-created munitions industry is shifting its weight to the Pacific war theatre, now that the enemy is grudging on the western front.

The stockpiles and warehouses in the European theatre are filled to the bursting with war supplies. And the men who have guided the Dominion's munitions plants from infancy through four years of war are turning their eyes to the Orient.

Outside of the plants themselves you wouldn't notice the change, except perhaps in those nameless Pacific ports where deadly cargoes go aboard the ships. The munitions industry of necessity is a silent arm of war—and enemy ears are sharp.

But the munitions department itself dropped a sizeable hint. It announced the establishment of a Canadian packaging committee to supervise "necessary" changes in packaging methods and materials to assure safe arrival of the "increasing volume" of Canada war supplies moving into the Pacific war regions.

There have been other indications the flow of munitions is being diverted from one theatre to another. They have come from time to time in official statements which, without saying as much, have indicated that some such move was afoot.

For instance, Trade Minister MacKinnon announced that Canada shipped $15,000,000 worth of goods to war-impooverished China during the first six months of this year—against none during the corresponding period last year. And shipments to Australia, major Allied base in the Pacific, climbed sharply to $25,000,000.

Mr. MacKinnon didn't specify just what these goods included, but, speaking generally of Canadian exports to United Nations, he indicated they were made up of trucks, tanks, guns and ammunition of all sorts.

DECISION OF ROMANIA TO GET OUT OF THE WAR BEFORE THE COLLAPSE OF GERMANY

Hitler's Balkan house of cards has begun to tumble. Romania, richest and most turbulent of the states of southeast Europe and economically the most valuable of the remaining German satellites, has declared herself out of the war.

Bulgaria has been trying to get out for some time. Her latest efforts to quit before Germany collapses received a cold reception from belligerents on both sides.

If Romania can make her decision stick against the opposition of a German army already in Romania, the Nazis will have finally lost the greatest natural oil resources in Europe—already reduced by Allied air attacks and closely threatened by the advancing Russian armies.

In announcing that Romania had accepted Allied armistice terms and was "taking her fate in her own hands," young King Michael and his advisers apparently held shaky Bulgaria to a similar decision by a brief margin. The Bulgarian parliament approved fully the peace plea of that country's premier.

Michael's announcement indicated that Romania hoped to follow Italy's example by becoming at least a "co-belligerent" of the United Nations, saying Romania would fight "the enemy," obviously meaning the Germans.

Romania has been the key to the entire German position in the Balkans.

It was there that Hitler made his first infiltration to break up the Balkan bloc in 1941.

It was there that he gathered his troops first for the penetration of Bulgaria and then for the conquest of Greece.

It was in Romania that he built one of his major springboards for the 1941 attack on Russia, luring nationalistic Romanians on with the promised reward of Bessarabia and northern Bucovina, which Romania had ceded to the Soviet Union under pressure a year previously.

But territorially, as well as in every other way, Romania lost by her association with the Germans. Her soil was used as a political pawn to placate Hungary and Bulgaria.

Not enthusiastic warriors, the Romanians fought lethargically on the Allied side in the First Great War, yet the country's territory was nearly doubled by adroit manoeuvres at the peace tables, with the late glamorous Queen Marie a leading figure in the political manoeuvring.

At a point near Puerto Rico the Atlantic Ocean reaches a depth of 44,000 feet.
